National Office Furniture Introduces New Laminate Casegood Series, Renegade

JASPER, Ind. – May 19, 2010 – National Office Furniture introduces its newest casegood series now available for order, Renegade. This exceptional value, all laminate offering is designed to perform in a multitude of spaces from private offices and open areas to teaming and mobile workforces. Featuring the latest in styling and durability, Renegade’s flexibility starts with both fully assembled units and shell based components for creative solutions tailored to the way an organization works.

Renegade’s versatility continues with mix and match surface and chassis options, layered surfaces and tiered storage solutions along with a full line of credenzas, wall mount cabinets, freestanding lateral files and wardrobes, bookcases and more custom-like storage selections.

Further demonstrating National’s commitment to responsible manufacturing and social and environmental stewardship, Renegade earns level™ 2 certification by SCS for meeting the multi-aspect criteria of the BIFMA e3 Sustainability Standard. Additionally, Renegade is SCS Indoor Advantage™ certified for meeting stringent indoor air quality criteria based on the Furniture Emission Standard (FES) established by BIFMA and is available with FSC-Certified wood. These environmental attributes can contribute towards LEED® points.

“We call this our go anywhere series where collaboration and personal space coexist beautifully. Not only does it have the capability to create typical private office settings, it also has a more contemporary styling that features layered surfaces and storage. Add its environmental attributes, durability, versatility and great price point, and you’ll see why we’re very excited to introduce Renegade to the marketplace,” says Kourtney Smith, Vice President of Marketing, National Office Furniture.
