

PROJECT CASE STUDY

Client

City of Wyoming

Project Team

Architect & Design Firm:
Studio SMC Planners

Client Need

City Hall's interior space required a comprehensive renovation. The existing furniture, which had been in place for over 25 years, was showing significant signs of wear and tear, with many pieces breaking down. The project required upgrading the space to meet contemporary standards for functionality, such as fostering collaboration, without compromising on quality or durability.

Key Outcomes

- Design & Durability: KOF and Studio SMC delivered an updated workspace that balanced modern design with the durability required for long-term use.
- Budget-Friendly Approach: The hybrid solution allowed the city to upgrade its interior with high-quality furniture in essential areas and cost-effective alternatives in other spaces, all within the designated budget.

Our Solution

Kentwood Office Furniture (KOF) was awarded the bid by offering a combination of vendor preferred and value-engineered solutions. This strategic mix provided high-quality, long-lasting furniture in key areas while utilizing more budget-friendly options where appropriate. KOF's close partnership with Studio SMC ensured that the design plan met the city's objectives while staying within the project's financial framework.

Collaborative Design Approach

KOF worked closely with Studio SMC Planners, an architecture and design firm based in Pennsylvania, to align with the city's goals and objectives. Throughout the entire process, KOF collaborated with Studio SMC to ensure that the renovation addressed City Hall's functional needs, aesthetic goals, and budgetary constraints.

